

Disaster Recovery

Support IT can help you prepare for Disaster Recovery in many ways, depending on the nature and size of your business. A carefully thought out plan is essential key to being able to recover from an unexpected disaster.

Your business should still be able to function affectively should the worst happen. We have the knowledge and experience to create the right plan for you, specific to your individual requirement and budget. Whether you want to have in place an automated online back up to an ultra-secure data centre, or a complete off-site replication of your systems we can assist you in achieving that goal.

Below are some examples of how we can keep your business functioning 24 hours a day
